

China Medical Equipment Fair Spring in Shenzhen

Reported by Akira Iimura, International Division

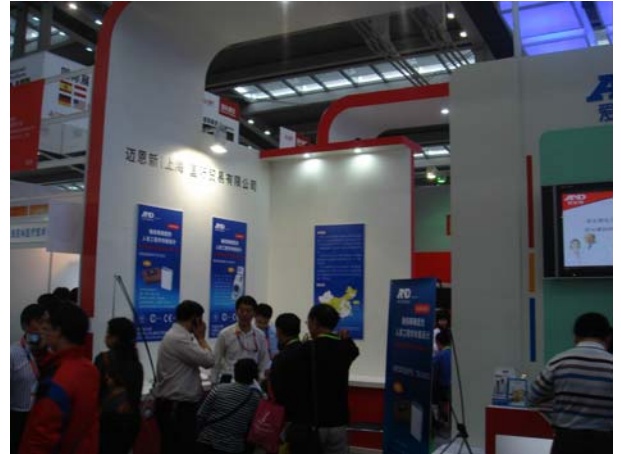

The 63rd China Medical Equipment Fair Spring (CMEF) was held at Shenzhen Convention & Exhibition Center in Shenzhen from April 18th to 21st. Over 2000 companies participated and more than 65,000 visitors, including international visitors, attended over the 4 days. CMEF is the largest medical exhibition in China.

As with last year, ADCH (A&D Electronics (Shenzhen) Co., Ltd.) and ADTS (A&D Technology Trading (Shanghai) Co. Ltd.) collaborated and shared space. Two dealers of ADTS also participated and had their booths in the same space.

Shanghai Chenyu Instrument Co. Ltd., introduced the UM101 Mercury-free sphygmomanometer and Manshin (Shanghai) International Trading Co., Ltd. demonstrated TM2655 Fully automatic blood pressure monitors. The collaboration of A&D and these dealers kept our booth full of visitors.

In terms of products, we introduced the TM2656 fully automatic blood pressure monitor as a reference exhibit for the first time at an exhibition abroad. We also exhibited blood pressure monitors equipped with Bluetooth. Some visitors came to our booth see our products since they know A&D is a member of Continua and learn more A&D's state-of-the-art technology. We got good responses and we are sure there is a big demand for the products in China.

This exhibition was very successful because we were able to give detailed information about all our product lines. Furthermore, we sent a message that A&D is a leading company for blood pressure monitors in the field of Telemedicine.